

Hairlice is the Perfect Gift!

One of our favourite home made gifts were jars of Hairlice. It looks and sounds terrible, but it is a delicious, aromatic sugar blend that tastes absolutely divine when added to coffee instead of regular sugar. It makes a slightly sadistic and humongously hilarious homemade gift.

Other ways we have enjoyed the hairlice are:

- added to warm milk
- dusting shortbread
- sprinkling on sponge cakes
- sprinkling on pastries
- added to Chai

This recipe yields about 900ml, enough to fill three small jars or two medium-sized jars.

Ingredients

2 cups white sugar
2 cups raw sugar
1 vanilla bean, chopped
1 tablespoon cocoa powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Instructions

Add all ingredients to a Thermomix or blender.
Blend on high for one minute, until well combined.
Spoon the mixture into clean jars and seal tightly.
